FORCE TO THE UTMOST!

HERE IS YOUR PATRIOTIC OPPORTUNITY.

Are you one of the 1,500,000 people in South Carolina who do not own a Liberty Bond? If you are one, it is surely not because you didn't want to buy one. It is not because you did not wish to help the government. It does not mean that you are deaf to the stirring appeal which the sacrifices of our brave soldiers make. It means that you were not financially in a position to purchase Liberty Bonds, even though you were eager to help.

Because there are millions of people like you who are one of the main reasons why the government decided to issue War Savings and Thrift stamps—which are, in effect, simply small Liberty Bonds, "baby" bonds—but which possess advantages for the small investor that the larger bonds do not hold.

If you are sincere in your desire to help, you have the opportunity in War Savings and Thrift Stamps. Since as little as 25 cents can be invested in these small bonds, there is absolutely no reason why every man, woman, and child in the State to South Carolina should not own at least one stamp, and buy as often as he or she can. Any amount from 25 cents to $880 can be invested in this splendid government security, which pays interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum, compounded quarterly, and matures January 1, 1923. They can be redeemed with interest any time before maturity, and are absolutely the best and most patriotic investment the small investor can make.

Buy War Savings Stamps to the limit of your resources, and you will be in every way as genuinely patriotic as the wealthier person who invested in Liberty Bonds.

bulletin has been issued, containing 40 pages, laying out a most attractive and thorough course of five weeks' intensive training for teachers. The best available expert educational leadership and talent has been secured in a faculty of 23 instructors, representing every branch of the public school curriculum, with additional opportunity of special advantages in music, expression, domestic science, art and the modern languages. A thorough department of commercial courses is also provided. The entire plant and equipment of Anderson College has been placed at the disposal of the Piedmont Normal Summer School. Nothing superior to this for comfort, cuisine and attractiveness is found in the South.

The Piedmont Normal Summer School, as its name implies, is an institution organized and conducted with a definite co-operation of the public school teachers in the six counties of Greenville, Anderson, Oconee, Pickens, Greenwood and McCormick. It is a co-operative movement, attended by ample resources to insure the highest standards of teacher training. It shares with Winthrop Summer School the approval and official recognition of the State Board of Education.

The expense to the individual teacher has been reduced to a minimum of $30 for the session. This includes board, room, private bath and tuition for five weeks. It also includes the privilege of a course of lectures by Dr. John E. White, Prof. Jas. P. Wythe, Dr. Verg Peterson, Dr. M. L. Brittain, Dr. W. S. Currell, Dr. Lee Davis Lodge, Dr. E. M. Poole, Dr. Henry N. Snyder, Dr. J. S. Moffatt, Prof. R. E. Grabel.

Application should be made at once for rooms, over half of which have already been engaged. It is now practically certain that every available space in Anderson College will be taken. A request mailed to Dr. John E. White, Anderson College, Anderson, S. C., will bring catalogue and reservation blank.

When you are in perfect health, and are enjoying a strong and vigorous vitality, it is then that your blood is free from all impurities.

You should be very careful and give heed to the slightest indication of impure blood. A sluggish circulation is often indicated by an impaired appetite, a feeling of lassitude and a general weakening of the system. It is then that you should promptly take a few bottles of S. S. S., the great blood purifier and strengthener. It will cleanse the blood thoroughly and build up and strengthen the whole system. S. S. S. is sold by all druggists. MONTANA'S "RED CROSS LAMB."

(Lewiston, Mont., Democrat-News.)

The livestock sale at the fair grounds yesterday was attended by one of the largest crowds ever assembled there for the purpose of bidding, or out of curiosity. Over 100 head of cattle and horses were taken there to be sold, but a great many of them could not be brought into the ring on account of lack of time. Over $3,000 worth of animals were disposed of. Prices were not as high as expected, but everybody seemed to be satisfied.

The star attraction of the sale was the disposal of the Red Cross lamb, "Lewiston, Montana." When $1,500 had been raised as a pool a little girl drew a ticket from a hat. The name opposite that number was J. E. Woodward. Mr. Woodward's representative immediately put the lamb up for sale at auction and it was resold several times, each buyer placing it on sale once more. The final amount secured was $1,605.

The last purchaser agreed to donate the lamb to the Red Cross, and it is proposed to ship it to the leading towns in Fergus county to be sold at auction, with the understanding that the animal will be given back to the Red Cross. After it makes a tour of Fergus county, it will be shipped to the Great Falls Red Cross and sold again. From there it will go to Helena, Butte, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other cities that may demand it, and sold at auction at each place.

If possible, it is desired that the Red Cross lamb will be returned to its home in time for the county fair, to be held in Lewiston on September 16-19, where it will be the greatest attraction that could be secured. A record of the lamb's trip will be kept by each Red Cross society which handled it, together with the amount of money raised at each sale.

It is hoped that before the lamb returns to Lewistown that the Red Cross society will have received $100,000 from the proceeds of the sale of this innocent little lamb.

Photographer Titter will take a picture of the lamb to-day, properly decorated, and with Miss Wentworth dressed in Red Cross suit. This picture will be printed on postal cards and these cards will be sold by Boy Scouts and high school girls for the benefit of the Red Cross.

WHAT WALHALLA WANTS TO KNOW.

The Answer Is Found in the Statement of a Walhalla Resident.

From week to week, from year to year, there have been appearing in these columns statements made by neighbors, which we have all read with great interest, and many of us with great profit. But what we want to know is do they stand the greatest test of all—the test of time? Here is conclusive evidence on this point from a Walhalla man:

R. D. Oelkers, butcher, W. Main St., says: "I had suffered from rheumatic pains ever since I was a boy. My kidneys had always been irregular in action and I had backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Bell's Drug Store, gave me complete relief."

OVER THREE YEARS AGO Mr. Oelkers said: "I haven't had the slightest sign of kidney trouble since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. I am now in the best of health."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Oelkers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y.

GRAVE OF GEN. MARION.

(Pickens Sentinel.)

Recently I had the great pleasure of going to see the old home and grave of Gen. Francis Marion, the "Swamp Fox" of Revolutionary fame. The place is called "Belle Isle," and is in Berkeley county, some 12 miles below the Orangeburg county line, and about 50 miles above Charleston. The old house in which the famous general lived and died is still standing, but going to decay; the yard is covered with briars and bushes, and the grave near the house is almost hidden by the undergrowth. It seemed to me to be a shame that our State has let this place go to ruin and let the weeds and briars almost hide from view the grave of one of the best soldiers, if not the best soldier, of the Revolutionary War. Almost a hundred years after his death the Legislature of South Carolina erected a granite monument, with metal plates with his name and a bare mention of his service to the country. That was good, but not enough for one who had done so much for the cause of freedom. The State ought to buy the plot of ground where the house and grave is and build a concrete wall or iron fence around it and keep it in good condition. If the State does not do this, then it ought to be done by the Daughters of the Revolution. Many of our patriotic people over the State would be willing to contribute to such a fund. The name and deeds of Marion ought never to die, but on the contrary ought to be handed down from father to son for all time to come. I remember as a child hearing my father tell of how Marion would pounce upon the Tories and British, kill many of them, and in some instances all of them, then back to his hiding place in the swamps without the loss of a man.

"A moment in the British camp,
A moment and away;
Back to the pathless forest
Before the peep of day."

There is a place in Sumter county where tradition says Marion slipped up on a company of the enemy while they were eating their supper and killed every man, not one escaping. That place is called by the citizens of the community "Bloody Pond" to this day. All honor to the memory of this brave soldier and wise general who "lived without fear and died without reproach." D. W. Hlott.
